

ERDINGER
Weißbier

ERDINGER Schneeweisse - The taste of winter.

With its beautiful amber color, ERDINGER Schneeweisse is a special treat for the winter season.

Schneeweisse gets its full-bodied spicy flavor by using the first fine malts of the summer harvest and allowing the beer more time to mature. The strong body and ABV of 5.6% make this top-fermenting wheat beer specialty an absolute pleasure when it gets dark and cold outside.

The scene is set by the bottle's label with its snowy forest and snow-topped logo. In 1998, ERDINGER Weißbräu was the first brewery to introduce a winter wheat beer on the market. The seasonal specialty is available from October to February.
